Hungarian Season Opens on October 1st

Partridge Are Reported
Numerous in Alberta;
Chicken Season Opens.

Alberta's Hungarian partridge shooting season opened on Wednesday, October 1st, and lasts until November 14th. This year, there is a plentiful supply of birds in southern and central Alberta. The weather was favorable for hatching, and there was not the usual loss from hail and wet spells. The limit is 15 birds a day, and 75 for the season.

The season for sharp-tailed grouse and prairie chicken, opens the same day, and lasts for two weeks. These birds may be shot only north of the Red Deer River.

Schools Field Day

Didsbury schools are preparing for a large representation in the Inter-Schools Track Meet, being held at Innisfail tomorrow (Friday).

The schools will compete for a trophy, put up annually for competition, and the winner will be the school gaining the most number of points in a series of track and field events, in which both boys and girls take part.

The events are arranged in the following classes: 12 yrs and under; 15 yrs. and under; open.

Crossfield, Carstairs, Didsbury, Olds, and Innisfail, will be the competing schools. Bad weather has interfered with the training of the Didsbury contestants, but they have material that will be able to give a good account of themselves.

The trophy is at present held by the Olds school.

Westcott United Church is observing Rally Day, Sunday, October 5th, at 3 p.m. Special order of service.

Women's Association Convention

The fourth semi-annual meet of the Women's Association of the Red Deer District, held in Knox Church, Didsbury, September 30th, at 2 p.m., with a large attendance of delegates and friends.

The president, Mrs. Grisdale, of Olds, was in the chair. The meeting opened with devotional exercise, led by Mrs. H. E. Roppel, Didsbury, which was greatly enjoyed by all. Then followed the report of the secretary, Mrs. Lundgren, Innisfail, and of the treasurer, Mrs. Thompson, Bowden. The secretaries of the Ladies' Aids within the presbytery, reported on their activities during the past six months. Mrs. Hugst gave a reading, and Mrs. T. E. Armstrong, a short talk on the W.A. organization, as outlined in the new manual. We were then favored with two delightful cello numbers by Miss Evelyn Liesemer, and two beautiful vocal solos by Miss Saugstead, accompanied by Miss Laura Liesemer. Mrs. Harder then gave a very impressive talk to women on the Christian life.

The meeting closed with the mizpah benediction, led by Mrs. Grisdale, after which the ladies repaired to the basement of the church, where very dainty refreshments were served by the Knox Church Ladies' Aid.

Rev. H. E. Roppel motored to Rockyford this week, to perform a marriage ceremony on Wednesday.

LOCAL & GENERAL

Mr. W. C. Moon was a business visitor to Calgary this week.

Mr. Leon Doll, of the Peace River district, is visiting here for a few days.

Evensong and sermon at 3 p.m., St. Cyprian's Church, Didsbury, on Sunday.

Miss Freda Moon is spending a few days in Red Deer this week, attending the annual convention of the W.C.T.U.

A series of dances will be held in the Didsbury Opera House, every Saturday night. Ladies, 25c. and Gents, 25c. Bellamy Orchestra, u.f.n.

We have it on good authority that a couple of ducks landed on the water-hole in front of the Pioneer Office, on Tuesday. From there, they went to the one opposite Jim Phillipson's office, and away.

Ruth and Bessie Finlay, Mary and Jean Robertson, Rita Scrutton, and Beatrice Hayes, took part in a pianoforte recital given by pupils of Victoria Thomson, L.R.A.M., at Bowden on Monday afternoon.

Mr. Hans Olsen, of Crossfield, intends to commence a class for violin and cornet pupils in Didsbury. As soon as possible, he will organize an orchestra amongst his pupils.

We have just received our sample book of Personal Greeting Cards. There is a better selection of cards than in previous years, and the values are far greater. We will be pleased to have you call and see the samples, or our representative will call on you.

The Isle of Lost Ships, at the Didsbury Opera House, Thursday, October 9th. A floating island of derelict ships and souls, locked together in a mass of seaweed. A weird empire ruled by a giant brute and where every woman must choose a mate, within a day, and her man must fight to hold her. All-talking.

According to the Contract Record and Engineering Review, Mr. J. A. Peters, Edmonton, has been awarded a contract to erect a radio station, with living quarters, at Red Deer, at an estimated cost of $11,000,000, for the Department of National Defence. Mr. Peters has also been awarded the contracts for similar radio stations at Edmonton and Lethbridge.

The regular meeting of the council of Westerdale Municipality, was held in the offices on Saturday last, with all the councillors present. It was reported that roadwork was being held up, owing to bad weather, but it is intended to rush the season's program to a close, as soon as the weather clears. There was considerable discussion on road matters, and the various accounts passed for payment.

Obituary.

Isaac H. Levagood, of Westcott, Alberta, was born near Port Huron, Michigan, on September 18th, 1856, and quietly passed away in his sleep, on September 26th, 1930, in his home, at the age of 74 years, and 7 days.

He grew up on the farm at the place of his birth, and in 1878, he married Miss Lovina Hunsperger. One year after their marriage, they moved to Marian, Kansas, remaining there till the year 1899. At that time, they, together with their family of four boys, migrated to Canada, settling at Didsbury, Alberta. Here, he pioneered as one of the early settlers in this community. Living here for over 30 years, he became well and favorably known for miles around. One son preceded his father in death, six years ago, as the result of an accident.

The deceased leaves to mourn his departure: a sorrowing widow; three sons, Harry and Ira, both residing at Westcott, Alberta, and Roy, in Benton City, Washington; also ten grandchildren, including Mrs. Harry Stöckley, adopted daughter, since she was four years of age.

The funeral service was held on Sunday afternoon, September 28th, 1930, in Didsbury Evangelical Church, with an audience estimated around 400 in attendance. The Reverends H. E. Roppel and C. J. Hallman conducted the service, Rev. C. J. Hallman assisting in the preliminaries, and rendering a solo, while Rev. H. E. Roppel had charge of the service, and preached the funeral sermon.

Interment took place in Didsbury cemetery.

Plans for Winter Aid Go To Ottawa

An entire Alberta program for unemployment relief, will be ready presently to take to Ottawa, there to be laid before the Dominion government. Hon. O. L. McPherson, minister of public works, leaves for the national capital during the week-end, to meet Hon. Gideon Robertson, federal minister of labor, and he will be accompanied by representatives of Edmonton and Calgary cities. The Alberta delegation will submit the plans that have been drawn up for relief in this province.

Agricultural Society Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of Didsbury Agricultural Society was held in Berscht's Hall, on Friday afternoon with President Dan Dippel in the chair.

The president gave a report of the activities of the society, and stated that the year had been very successful, and that the society was in a better financial position than that of the previous year.

The officers were all re-elected: President: Mr. D. Dippel; 1st Vice-president: Mr. A. O. Fisher; 2nd Vice-president: Mr. Jas. Shiels; Managing Director: Mr. J. V. Berscht, and Secretary: Mr. C. E. Reiber. The old directors were all re-appointed, with the exception of Miss Vera Sexsmith, and the following additional directors were appointed: Messrs. S. L. Bosomworth, A. Sherriff, D. G. Hardbatt, and C. R. Westfall. Additional lady directors: Mrs. A. Sherriff, and Miss Elva Fisher.

The secretary's report showed a membership of 210, and that $1,353 were paid out in prizes at the fair.

It was decided to hold a two-day fair, next year, the suggested dates being July 28th and 29th.

Moisture May Lower North Grain Grades

Unthreshed grain in northern areas of the prairies, may be penalized on grade by wet weather on the heels of threshing interruptions, due to the high winds, according to the twentieth crop report of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. The threshing of wheat is virtually complete in Manitoba; three-quarters done in Saskatchewan, and more than half finished in Alberta.

Almost entire absence of frost, this fall, except in northern Alberta, is mentioned in the report, which states that practically no damage has resulted. Rain and snow, fallen during the past few days, it is stated, will supply moisture needed to facilitate fall plowing.

Too Much ACID

Many people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief. Please do that—for your own sake—now.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drugstore.

September 1905-1930.

The first week of September was a red letter period in the history of the twin prairie provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan as it marked the silver anniversary of the creation of these latest members of the Canadian Confederation out of a portion of the vast North West Territories.

When these provinces were inaugurated twenty-five years ago, it was estimated for financial and other purposes that they each contained 250,000 people,—an estimate which a census taken in 1906 proved to have erred on the side of generosity to the new provinces. Today these two provinces contain over one and a half millions of people. Prior to the creation of the new provinces, the people resident in the Territories were represented by ten members in the House of Commons; today Alberta and Saskatchewan have a total of 37 representatives in the Commons.

In 1905, while population was steadily increasing through immigration, settlement was sparse indeed, and large tracts were still wholly unsettled,—even today the area within the two provinces is one of the least thickly settled portions, not only of the Dominion but of the habitable world.

Twenty-five years ago this great western empire was served by one main line of railway, and only a few branch lines; today the country is criss-crossed with lines of steel,—Saskatchewan itself being the second province of Canada in point of railway mileage, being surpassed in this respect only by the older, richer, much more populous province of Ontario.

This great fertile prairie area, to which twenty-five years ago many people questioned the wisdom of granting full provincial status, has in many other respects witnessed one of the most remarkable transformations, and recorded a more phenomenal growth, than any other portion of the world in a like period of time. Its productive capacity has amazed other countries, and today the out-turn of the year's operations in the prairie provinces is the barometer of all business in Canada.

Coincident with the settling of the farm lands, thousands of hamlets and hundreds of villages came into existence, villages became towns, towns grew into cities. With ever-increasing railway facilities, modern telephone systems, one of the most efficient educational systems in the world, good roads and modern highways, hospitals, and all the requirements and necessities of twentieth century life, the last Great West of the pioneers of the closing years of the last century has passed into history, being replaced by two of the most progressive and up-to-date autonomous provinces of the Dominion.

As has been the case with all other lands and nations, this record of growth has not always been maintained at high peak. While there has never been any retrogression, and progress has always been recorded with each passing year, there have been times when things have "slowed up," when periods of depression have come, when the more faint-hearted were inclined to raise questions and entertain doubts. There have been temporary periods of hard times, and during the quarter of a century under review there occurred the awful calamity, and progress-destroying event, of the Great War. Nevertheless, steady growth, permanent growth, has been the outstanding characteristic of the first twenty-five years of provincial history of Alberta and Saskatchewan.

This year, owing to a combination of climatic and world economic conditions, Western Canada, in common with the rest of the world, is passing through another period of business depression. There is unemployment for some, loss of crops for many, greatly restricted incomes for others, and generally less prosperous times for all. As is always the case at such times, there are croakers and pessimists abroad in the land, but they are but a slim minority among the great mass of people who live on these prairies and have made them the magnificent provinces they are today.

Twenty-five years may constitute quite a portion of a man's life, but it is only a fleeting second in the life of a nation or a province. Every individual must experience some ups and downs in life; without reverses man would become a flabby thing. The same is true of nations and provinces. Out of the difficulties of today will come the basis of still greater progress, a more permanent and satisfactory form of prosperity. What has been accomplished in Alberta and Saskatchewan during the past twenty-five years is but the forerunner and a promise of what the next quarter of a century will record. Now is the time to prepare for it in order to reap the maximum benefit from that inevitable new era of expansion and prosperity.

Yield Valuable Oil Which Chemists Believe May Become Popular

Chemists have recently discovered a valuable oil in cherry pits, which should prove to be a high-grade dressing for salad and useful for the manufacture of cosmetics and for some pharmaceutical preparations. Since a hundred million pounds of sour cherries are annually canned in Michigan, Wisconsin, and New York, it is altogether likely that this new oil will become popular.

Canada's Coal Production

Coal produced in Canada in 1929, totalled 17,496,557 tons from the mines in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia. Imports of coal last year amounted to 18,619,300 tons of which 14,469,831 tons came from the United States.

Buy Only Empire Goods

Women Of Vancouver Have Started a Worthy Campaign

Under the instance of the Vancouver Council of Women, more than 2,000 women in Vancouver have signed pledge cards to ask with respect to every purchase, "Where from?" They are then pledged to insist upon British Columbia products made or grown in Canada, or Empire goods.

The campaign is to be continued. In the 70 women's organizations affiliated with the local council of women, there are more than 10,000 members, and all of these are to be asked to sign the "Where from" pledge and to act upon it.

The cards are in two sections, with perforations to allow tearing apart. On one half the name and address of the signatory is kept by the local council. The other half is taken by the signatory and can be placed in a conspicuous place in the home as a reminder.

THE REASON WHY

Thin, Weak Children Need Baby's Own Tablets

Malnutrition, or inability to derive nourishment from food, is a common trouble with little children and is entirely due to stomach and bowel weakness. Another cause of loss of flesh and sleep is worms.

To correct stomach and bowel troubles and thus banish constipation and indigestion, break up colds and simple fevers; expel worms and allay the pain which accompanies the cutting of teeth is what Baby's Own Tablets were designed for. They never fail to be of aid and can be given with safety to the youngest babe.

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Ship Strawberries To Australia

The extension of the British Columbia markets for frozen strawberries to Australia was effected the other day when 160 cases were shipped off, having a dead weight of more than two tons. This follows a small experimental order sent some months ago. Good prospects are seen for future business along this line.

Four Doses Relieved Bad Attack of Cholera

Mr. W. J. Cooper, Maughan, Alta., writes:—"A year ago last spring I arrived in Canada with my family, and one of my boys, aged six, was suffering very much with cholera. When we arrived I had a few hours to wait, and told one of the attendants at the station about it, and he asked me if I had ever tried Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. I had never heard of it in England, so he told me I could get it in Winnipeg. I am pleased to say I had only to give the child four doses and he got well and was quite cheerful by the next morning."

Experiments With Rockets

Expect To Obtain Valuable Information By Penetrating Upper Regions

Experiments in shooting rockets to extreme altitudes, financed by Daniel Guggenheim, will be carried on by Professor Robert H. Goddard, of Clark University, Worcester, Mass., at Roswell, N.M. That site was selected because of favorable atmospheric conditions.

Prof. Goddard has been conducting rocket experiments since 1912 with the regard of the Smithsonian Institution, Clark University and the Carnegie Institution. Mr. Guggenheim recently made a grant to permit further work.

At Roswell, small rockets will be sent up first and finally one capable of ascending from 50 to 75 miles, will be sent up by gas propulsion and with parachutes to regulate the speed of the return to earth. The rockets will carry thermometers, barometer electrical measuring apparatus, air traps to collect samples of air at various altitudes and other instruments.

Pending completion of preparatory work, it cannot be announced how soon the work at Roswell will begin.

Canada's Primary Industry

Agriculture Gives Occupation To Large Percentage Of Population

Agriculture is Canada's outstanding primary industry, having a production value of nearly $2,000,000,000 annually. When considered in relation to the subsidiary industries dependent upon it, agriculture is the real leader in Canadian enterprise. As an industry it provides gainful occupations, directly and indirectly, to more than fifty per cent. of Canada's population.

Co-Operative Plan To Build Up Livestock Industry And Find Market For Western Grain

A plan to build up the livestock industry of Eastern Canada and at the same time provide a market for a part of the grain surplus of Western Canada, has been devised by the interested parties.

Western wheat pools, Eastern livestock interests and packers have conferred with the Ontario Department of Agriculture, the Ontario Agricultural College and the Dominion Department of Agriculture, resulting in the appointment of J. H. Newsome, the Wheat Pool's Toronto representative, and S. E. Todd, secretary of the Industrial and Development Council, of the Canadian Meat Packers' Association, to work with the governments in furthering the plan.

Hon. George Weir, Minister of Agriculture, has authorized the Dominion livestock branch to put into operation for a period of five months ending January 1, 1931, a feeder purchase policy which will enable the Eastern Canada Livestock raiser to amplify his stock from western herds.

Under this policy the Dominion branch will pay one-way railway fare, berth and living expenses en route of any applicant in Eastern Canada who agrees to purchase one or more carloads of steers or feeder lambs in the west, to be brought east for finishing on the standard prices coarse grain feeds which the Wheat Pool guarantee to supply.

The plan, already in operation, is designed to make of the agriculture and animal husbandry a co-operative business; to have grain growers skim the cream of good profits in the fat seasons and operate at cost in the lean; to have cattle breeders reap a harvest when the grain is low and operate at cost when grain is prospering.

Immigration Returns

58,273 Entries To Canada During First Four Months Of Present Fiscal Year

Immigration to Canada for the first four months of the present fiscal year (April, May, June and July) amounted to 58,273, according to a statement issued by the Department of Immigration and Colonization. This compares with an immigration of 94,214 for the same period a year ago, and shows a falling off of 35,941 or 38 per cent.

By major classifications immigration for the four months this year compared with the same four months a year ago was: British, this year, 19,317, last year 41,054; United States, this year, 12,075, last year, 14,773; northern European races, this year, 11,109, last year, 17,797; Other races, this year, 15,772, last year, 20,590.

During the period from April 1 to July 31, 13,090 Canadians who had gone to the United States intending to stay there returned to Canada for permanent residence. These are not included in the immigration returns.

Predicts Mild Winter

A mild winter with a light snowfall and sharp cold waves of short duration will be experienced in North America this year, delegates to the International Apple Association at Grand Rapids, Mich., were told by Herbert Janvrin Browne, of Washington, long range weather forecaster. He also predicted a hurricane would strike Florida late in September, and said there would be no serious drought through the country next summer.

Business Picking Up

Increase In Trade For Canada Is Shown By Statistics

A slight picking up in trade in Canada is indicated by early statistics for July, issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Increased imports of raw rubber over the preceding month, and increased exports of manufactured rubber goods would indicate increasing activity in the Canadian rubber industry. Newsprint exports in July were higher than in June, and exports of other paper manufacturers were well maintained.

Dairy products were exported in larger quantities, particularly cheese and butter, with China taking a large proportion of the butter exports, and Great Britain and the Irish Free States taking the bulk of Canada's cheese. An increase in exports of fresh milk to the United States is noted.

Beautifying Highways

Planting Of Trees Along Main Highways In Western Provinces Would Be Excellent Plan

The good roads movement is branching into new channels. Up till recently the emphasis has been on highways themselves. The spread of motoring produced a demand throughout Canada and the United States for all-weather roads linking centres of population. Today the results are visible in every Canadian province and American state. Now the good roads advocates are turning to other features of highway work. At its last convention the American Automobile Association passed a motion instructing its legislative committee to study highway aesthetics. There are three objectives:

To regulate advertising signs on highways so that they will not mar scenic views or add to the accident hazard;

To banish the broken down motor cars and junk heaps which spoil many roads and have a depressing effect on temperamental motorists;

To encourage the improvement of highways by tree planting, boulevarding and other methods.

This program is one with which motor clubs everywhere will sympathize. In Saskatchewan plans for beautifying roads might seem premature, since the province's need for all-weather highways is not yet satisfied. Saskatchewan is still in the road building stage and for some years to come grading and graveling will be the varieties of road work most in demand. Still, there is no reason why something should not be done now to conserve and create beauty on the provincial highways.

First of all, advertising signs might be "regulated" with greater severity. In the national parks of Canada the eyes of the motorists are immediately relieved by the complete absence of all signs, bills and posters, except government road makers. Not even the small advertisements which are attached to telephone poles and trees are permitted. The traveller is not distracted by these tin plates and stickers which infest other parts of the country. It may be that absolute prohibition is the right way of dealing with the billboard blight on country roads, but at any rate regulation is essential if the highways are not to become nightmares.

Tree planting on rural roads would immensely increase the pleasure of motoring in Saskatchewan. A start could be made on one of the most frequented highways near some centre of population. Motor clubs should study the question and evolve a proposal.—Saskatoon Star.

Babies At the Fairs

The Red Cross Provides a Valuable Service To Mothers Attending Summer Exhibitions

The great event of the year to many prairie women in the province of Alberta, is the annual fair and exhibition which is held in the largest central town, and draws attendance from every remote homestead.

Agricultural exhibits vie with each other, stock is groomed and exhibited with pride by youthful owners, competition is keen in every line and there is abroad a good feeling of healthy camaraderie and rivalry. A special place is given to the women's work, and in every country fair one can see the triumphs of the needle, and the rolling pin, the fruits and vegetables making a wonderful picture of color and beauty.

Seeing the Fair and enjoying the Midway is all the vacation that some farm women get from year to year. However, with small children, some in arms and others trailing behind, there is not much peace or pleasure. The Alberta Red Cross, one of the friendliest and most human of the service organizations of the day, offers a unique type of assistance to mothers at a number of the fairs.

Well equipped day nurseries are run by experts, where babies sleep in small cots and cradles, older babies enjoying the sport of sandpiles and swings. Refreshments are served free in some cases and a happy day is enjoyed by the small people who are too young to be entertained at the Grandstand. "Red Cross has given me a real holiday, the first in my life" was the tribute paid by one tired mother.

Vancouver Has Attained Importance As a Grain Shipping Port

During the 1929-30 crop year which ended July 31st last, a total of 465 ships loaded 49,673,282 bushels of grain at the port of Vancouver for world ports. This means an average of more than one ship for every day in the year. Of this total 39 ships took full cargoes at the port.

A survey of the shipments for the season shows that 314 vessels were loaded with 42,828,497 bushels for the British Isles and European ports, 99 took 5,617,228 bushels for the Orient; 34 ships with 817,930 bushels cleared for Central and South America; 11 carried 121,264 bushels to Australia and New Zealand, and seven loaded 288,363 bushels for South Africa.

DUCHESS OF YORK AND PRINCESS ELIZABETH

A survey of Canada's coal problem, a restatement of the anomalies of the nation's existing fuel situation, and some recommendations concerning the future are contained in a volume published called "The Fuel Problem of Canada," by Martin Nordegg, of Ottawa.

Mr. Nordegg, who has been intimately associated with western coal mining for many years, first of all looks over the present situation, and in doing so discloses some striking facts. Canada uses 33,000,000 tons of coal annually, of which 20,000,000 are imported. Yet Canada holds one-sixth of the total coal reserves of the world, most of it of sufficiently high quality to take the place of imported coals. At present the prospect of remedying this situation seems to the author to be not very rosy. Ultimate fuel independence, he put far into the future.

There are, according to the book, many factors which contribute to this anomalous coal situation in Canada, among them being wasteful and inefficient control of the coal industry as a whole; the duplication of mines; the failure of coal owners to look beyond the mere profit and loss side of their business; the failure of the railways to make the most of their opportunities; faulty and incompetent methods of marketing, and a general apathy on the part of the public and governments.

Mr. Nordegg's chief recommendations for putting an end to the present system are as follows: The introduction of low temperature carbonization coke plants in Canada; appointment of a Dominion fuel commission with wide powers and ample funds; cancellation of unworked mine leases; the allowing of new mines only when economically justified; readjustment on reasonable lines of tariff and drawback arrangements; elimination of duties on coal-mining tools and machinery and various forms of provincial taxation; the merging of existing mines wherever possible; the formation of coal syndicates for co-operative marketing and improved retailing methods.

"There must first be brought about a unification of minds bent on national welfare," adds the author, "a determination to waive petty personal, local and provincial interests. There should be no half-hearted measures. There must be a determined Canadian fuel development plan."

Costs Of Harvesting

Plan To Study Costs Of Different Methods Used In Saskatchewan

Plans have been made for studying the costs of harvesting Saskatchewan's 1930 grain crop by the different methods now in use. The Department of Agricultural Engineering, and the Farm Management Department of the University, are attempting to interest farmers in keeping track of all costs incurred in harvesting and threshing the crops.

To facilitate the recording of the costs of operation of the combined harvester-thresher a card has been printed for distribution to the farmers of this province. This card is similar to one printed earlier to record the costs of operating the farm tractor.

These cards are available for free distribution to those who care to make use of them and who wish to find out their costs of harvesting and of tractor operation.

$109,000,000 ADVERSE BALANCE OF TRADE

For the 12th-month period ending July 31, Canada's total imports amounted to $1,148,032,457 and her exports to $1,015,777,740, according to a report made public by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

This leaves a surplus of imports over exports of $109,449,031. For the corresponding period in 1929 the so-called favorable balance of trade was $59,643,011; for 1928, $135,212,472, and for 1926, $203,151,010.

BABY'S PILLOW

It should not be there! So say experts on Good Posture who have been examining the round shoulders of the rising generation. Mothers may not be aware that a child with round shoulders has diminished chest capacity and lessened strength in consequence. Mother explains this condition by telling of rapid growth and forgets that it is really due to a bad habit of poor posturing.

There is no greater aid to good health than to acquire good posture. It has a mental as well as a physical value, for a fine bearing helps a lad through life, both at school and in business.

Look at Billy when he comes out of his tub. Are his shoulder blades protruding when he stands sideways towards you? If so they are not quite right and Billy must be given some good setting-up exercises every day. Let Billy's mother do them herself for a few minutes with the children in the morning. She must make time, for it is of the highest importance to have backbone and shoulder blades just right.

Baby does not need any pillow in his cot and his bedclothes must not press too tightly at the bottom. Let the feet move freely and there's an excellent book of Good Posture offered free to parents by the Red Cross, 407 Civic Block Edmonton. Send for your copy today.

Fairy Rhymes Come True

"Hey diddle, diddle!
The cat and the fiddle,
The cow jumped over the moon . . ."

In our childhood days we accepted the above as gospel, the world being then new and wonderful where anything might happen. But it remained for the year 1930 to make it partly true with the airplane flight of Strathmore Hanna Fairchild, prize Holstein calf of the C.P.R. Experimental Farm at Strathmore, to Calgary and back. Little Hanna whose mother's half sister is the famous Strathmore Sylvia with a record of 29,371 pounds of milk in one year, was clad for her journey in a pneumonia jacket. Her feet were secured and a strong sack placed around her up to the neck. She lay quiet in the plane and seemed to like her trip. Lay-out shows Hanna who was named after John H. Hanna, secretary of the Calgary Board of Trade, greeted by a number of leading Calgarians and visitors on her arrival. Inset shows her peering out of her pneumonia jacket aboard the plane.

Town Planning In Alberta

Being a Series of Short Articles Explanatory of the Provisions Of The Alberta Town Planning Act, and Regulations Thereunder.

By
HORACE L. SEYMOUR,
Provincial Director of Town Planning.

Article 5.
Maintaining the Scenic Advantages Of Alberta Highways.
Sign Boards.

Regulations prepared by the Provincial Town and Rural Planning Advisory Board, and now made effective by order of council, should not only directly benefit the rural areas of the Province, especially in years to come, but will be appreciated by city and town dwellers, and by the ever-increasing number of tourists.

We read of the struggles to maintain scenic attractiveness on the highways in many of the states in the country to the south of us, which, a century ahead of Canada in population, has for several decades, been conscious of the signboard menace. In Canada, we have been more fortunate, and before population becomes too great, or development too intense, several provinces are already operating under regulations regarding outdoor advertising.

The Alberta regulations, (applying only outside cities, towns, and villages) with exceptions for official highway signs, or directional signs, are to the effect that: Signs shall be erected only within two miles of any city, or town; shall not be closer than 500 feet to each other; shall not be erected closer than 500 feet to road intersections, or railway crossings; shall not be erected closer to the centre line of the highway than 160 feet. Even where otherwise permitted in such limited zones, signs must be omitted, that in any way might constitute a traffic hazard, obstruct desirable views, or are objectionable to residents.

Every sign is to bear a label, showing the name of the owner, or persons responsible, and must be licensed for the calendar year on application to the Director of Town Planning, Parliament Buildings, Edmonton.

LOOK TO BRITAIN

All Stockgrowers Interested in the Re-establishment of British Cattle Market

One gleam of lights glows for the Western livestock growers in the possibility of re-opening the British market to Western Canadian cattle. The first 500 head have already been shipped across and a careful estimate of expense involved and of the price obtained on British markets will be kept.

Freight rates from the centre of the cattle country to Montreal averages $1.12 per hundred. The ocean rate has been reduced from $20 to $15 per head. This means it costs about $30 to carry a fat steer from the prairie to Liverpool. Further recommendations have been made to the government which may result in other reductions or arrangements.

The $30 charges to take a steer over to England are about the same as the increased tariff charges to put cattle on the Chicago market. But prices there are low, and moreover it is not a secure market. At any time there may be tariff changes as soon as it begins to look profitable. Canadian stockmen have been hit so frequently by stiffening tariffs that they look with greater security on the British market.

Another reason for hoping that the British enterprise may prove successful is that the shipments furnish employment to Canadians all the way from the shipping point to Liverpool.

ECONOMY

Pressure of business and growth of the Canadian Pacific Telegraphs has necessitated the appointment of an assistant general manager of the system, W. D. Neill, assistant manager, western lines, Winnipeg, having been promoted to the position. Other appointments resulting from this are: W. M. Thompson, superintendent, Ontario Division, Toronto, to be assistant manager, western lines, Winnipeg; H. S. Ingram, superintendent, eastern division, Montreal, to be superintendent, Ontario division, Toronto; and W. S. Emery, chief operator, Montreal, to be superintendent, eastern division, Montreal.

Fox Film Corporation during early July took sound records of the wind in the pines, the music of the waterfalls and the rippling of streams around Banff Springs Hotel and into this boxed atmosphere there will be placed actors and actresses who will be shown climbing mountains, walking by the side of lakes or canoeing on water-courses they have never seen.

Beating the world's record in passenger traffic operations, western Canada came into the limelight at the end of June with the 1,252 mile continuous run from Fort William to Calgary performed by Canadian Pacific engine No. 2808, of the H1 class. This locomotive is one of several now in service and under construction for the railway and are the latest type of passenger engine.

Carrying nearly a hundred tourists organized by the University of Montreal, a special Canadian Pacific train left Montreal July 5 for western Canada and the Pacific Coast. This tour is the sixth annual transcontinental trip undertaken and will last for three weeks. The richest industrial, agricultural and commercial districts of Canada, as well as the most beautiful scenery, including the Rocky Mountains, will be visited.

With a five-pound trout taken himself and a four-pounder landed by his son, in the catch, Arthur C. Roche, of Melrose, Mass., has just concluded a ten-day fishing trip down the Cain's River, New Brunswick. He said he had never heard of waters where there were so many trout as in Cain's River.

A total of over $87,000,000 is to spent this year on the construction and maintenance of roads throughout Canada. Ontario has set aside $12,500,000 of which $10,000,000 for new construction; Quebec will spend $11,000,000 for extending, improving and maintaining the provincial system of roads. Maritimes will expend $10,000,000; the Prairie Provinces, $15,000,000, and British Columbia, $8,500,000, representing a total of $87,000,000 spent by provincial governments.

The old gentleman, Father Time, often regarded as somewhat relentless, has had one put over him by the plant breeders at the Government Central Experimental Farm at Ottawa. Two crops of grain are now grown there in each year, one in the open and the other in greenhouses, brilliantly lighted with electric lamps, which have proven to be good substitutes for sun's rays.

You can depend on advertised products.

Advertising is the most powerful searchlight known to business. It focuses the attention of a community or a continent on a particular product. It gives that product the advantages of a widespread test by the buying public. But it cannot persuade that public to buy any article it has tested and found wanting. Manufacturers and merchants know this. They know also that advertising an unworthy product does only one thing: it brings magnified attention to its deficiencies. Therefore, before they undertake extensive or consistent advertising, they make sure that their product is right.

Consistent advertising is your best assurance of value and worth. It is fair evidence that the advertising is offering a good product which has been thoroughly tested and approved.

The advertisements in this newspaper have been passed by the highest authority—the buying public.

DIZZINESS

Caused by Blood pressure

Doctor ordered Kruschen

"Five years ago this month I had a serious attack of blood pressure, and my medical man ordered me to take Kruschen Salts daily. Evidently I am a stubborn subject, because I use every morning a small teaspoonful and a half in a glass of hot water, and this acts splendidly and keeps my head right. If I don't have the action mentioned, I feel cold, stupid and liable to fall from dizziness. Therefore I can't do without my Kruschen on any account. Some time ago I tried some other salts which were cheaper, but they pained me so much that I had to stop them. There is no pain with Kruschen. I have told hundreds of my little wonder-working bottle."—(E. C. Ferguson.)

Dizziness is a symptom of a deeper-seated disorder. It is one of Nature's danger signals—her urgent warning of an impure blood-stream which, if not attended to in time, may wreck the entire health with some dangerous, indeed lifelong, disease. The six salts in Kruschen keep the blood-stream pure and vigorous by ensuring the complete elimination of poisonous waste matter from the system every day.

All-Canadian Highway

Only One Stretch Of Road In Northern Ontario Remaining To Be Linked Up

An all-Canadian route from coast to coast is practically completed, only one stretch in Western Ontario remaining to be linked up, according to officials of the Canadian Automobile Association.

No one now needs to hesitate to travel from Manitoba, clear across, over the Rockies to British Columbia. The old-time "gumbo" roads which spelt disaster to motorists are now replaced with first-class gravel stretches and all dangerous curves and turns of less than 100 feet radius have been eliminated.

The one stretch of road which remains unfinished is that in north-western Ontario, passing around the northern shore of Lake Superior. With this exception the condition of the roads all through from the coast is excellent and all Provincial Governments are co-operating in the project of an all-Canadian highway.

New and Appetizing

Change In Marriage Law

British Columbia Passes New Law To Check Hasty Marriages

If impulsive couples "marry in haste and repent at leisure" in future, they will have to go outside British Columbia to do it.

Under legislation which came into effect on the first of September, eight days must elapse between the time license is issued and the time the ceremony is performed.

In cases where an immediate marriage is desirable, however, special permission may be obtained.

Clergymen must be registered with the provincial authorities in order to officiate.

GOVERNMENT GRAIN SAMPLING

System Of Sampling As Carried Out By The Government Inspection Department

The following describes the thoroughness of the system of sampling as carried on by the Government Inspection Department. We are indebted for this article to the Searle Grain Co., Ltd., Winnipeg:

Upon arrival of a trainload of grain at an inspection point a Government yard clerk lists the cars from the waybills which follow each car, listing car numbers, kind of grain, point of origin, destination, name of shipper and consignee. These details are necessary for the issuing of Inspection Certificates. Sampling crews with foremen then proceed to the train. The car opener breaks the seals and a record is taken of them. With a pinch bar the door is pushed open. A sampler then mounts a ladder, levels the grain just inside the door and spreads out a sheet of canvas two and one-half by six feet. Then comes the extremely heavy work of pushing the brass probe to the bottom of the car in a number of places. This probe is 72 inches long and has an outer sheath which, when the handle is turned, opens or closes its eleven compartments. The probe is emptied in rows on the canvas and is examined by the sampler to see if the sample is uniform in quality.

In case the grain in one part of the car proves to be poorer than the rest of the car, three samples are taken instead of one; one being of the inferior grain; another of the better grain, and another of the average of the whole car.

The sampler writes the car number on a cardboard ticket, date, load lines, showing depth of grain, and initials ticket, thus making a complete record of the sampling of each car; the grain and the cardboard ticket are put into a four-pound canvas bag and the string is drawn tight. The car door is closed and a new seal attached.

Cars are also examined as to their condition; a careful examination being made for signs of leaks and a record is made of the seals and the condition of each car, also leaks, if any. This work is done by separate crews of the Government Weighing Department.

When the entire train has been sampled, the samples are collected and are brought into the Government grain yard office, where the car numbers and the kind of grain are checked from the train list to detect any possible errors. Inspection sheets are also written up in the yard office from the train lists. After the samples have been checked the strings are drawn tight and the samples are put into boxes holding two dozen samples, and inspection sheets are despatched by truck to the Central Inspection Office for grading.

Doors Are Sealed After Sample Is Taken; Note Sample For Each Car Is Tied To Door Until Collected

In many cases, it is impossible to get a good sample on account of cars being loaded too full. A good sample means seven good probes (e.g., to the bottom of the car), as follows: One in each corner, and three down the car lengthwise. When less than seven good probes have been taken only a provisional inspection is made, final inspection to be made at unloading, and in some cases, cars are loaded so full that it is impossible to get more than one good probe, and sometimes none. Cars like these will not be inspected until at unloading.

Trains arrive at all hours, day and night. During the fall rush, trains of grain leave the Winnipeg yards every twenty minutes bound for the Head of the Lakes, and for a long period during the fall rush of 1928, upwards of three thousand cars were sampled in the Winnipeg yards every twenty-four hours.

The samplers and foremen are in line for promotion to Deputy Grain Inspectors, providing they are able to pass a very stiff practical examination set by the Chief Inspector and the Civil Service Commission.

The sampling is carefully done and the system is recognized as being most thorough; wherever possible there is a double check on the work.

How Man Has Progressed

Big Difference Between Voyage Of "Mayflower" and "R-100"

Three hundred and ten years ago, August 16, the "Mayflower" set sail for Plymouth Rock from England. The "Mayflower," contrary to general impression, began her voyage from Southampton. The pilgrims boarded the vessel at Plymouth, but the historic event actually began at Southampton.

The "Mayflower" was a little brigantine, and took three months to sail from Plymouth to Plymouth Rock.

Today, ocean liners of over 50,000 tons sail from that same port of Southampton, and reach the other side in about five days.

And a few weeks ago the passengers on the Canadian Pacific liner "Laurentic" turned their gaze upward in the sky and saw the airship "R-100" speeding toward England at about seventy-five miles an hour.

1620-1930—thus has man progressed.

Never Had a Birthday

Colored Porter Is Made Happy When Records Are Searched After 73 Years

The "office boy" of the State Department of Education, down in Franfort, Kentucky, is 73 years old, but he never had a birthday until a week ago. A birthday was officially presented Henry Davis, negro porter of the department, at an impromptu party in his honor after closing hours.

Recently Davis confided to W. C. Dally, superintendent of public instruction, that he "disremembered" when he was born, but that it would be the greatest joy of his life to know what it was like to have a birthday like other folks.

Tears filled Henry's eyes when he was presented with a humble certificate from Woodford County showing that he was born a slave near Versailles, August 13, 1857. The records had been carefully searched for Henry's birthday.

"I knowed I was born before freedom," said Henry. "Why I remembers hearing the guns at Richmond."

Some Curious Trees

Among the curious trees which have been found on the banks of the River Amazon, in South America, is one which has a sweet edible resin and with consistency of real sugar in the bark, and another which exudes an oily substance with the appearance, taste, and other qualities of lard.

Canada and World Trade

Stands Fifth As Regards Imports, Exports and Aggregate Trade

In a "Condensed Preliminary Report" for the fiscal year ended March 31st, 1930, issued by the External Trade Branch of the Bureau of Statistics, Canada is still shown in fifth place as a world trader, being fifth as regards imports, exports and aggregate trade. Imports amounted to $1,248,274,000 and exports to $1,144,938,000, making a total of $2,393,212,000.

CHAPTER XXIX.

Charmian awoke next morning with that strange sensation of something gone wrong that comes after a bereavement, the pain of which has been lost for a while in the blessed oblivion that descends on us with sleep. It was a moment before she understood its meaning, and as the truth dawned on her there came with it the thought that Jim was home again, and her heart lightened. His presence would make things easier—divert her grandmother from too-sad thoughts. Lying there in the room—in the very four-posted bed, indeed, where she was born, Charmian thought gratefully that Jim Bennett was a lighthouse, making the dark waters through which most of us must fight our way, at times, safer and brighter for those whose lives touched his.

She closed her eyes a moment, then as a sunbeam struck across her face, tossed back the covers and going to a window looked down on sleepy Wickfield. Main Street had not quite wakened, and only the Merry's Gypsy was abroad, going about his business soberly with but a glance for Miss Lizzie's Persian pussy that adorned a fence post, "his mind on higher things," smiled Charmian.

Somewhere farther down the street a door slammed, and a boy whistled. A new day had begun.

"And after all," mused Charmian as she turned away, "what difference will it make a hundred years from now? The world will go right on without the Davises. Grandma and I and all our troubles will be forgotten. Cheer up!"

This she endeavored to do as she mixed Grandma's favorite muffins, made individual omelets, and ran into the garden for some late blossoms to adorn the breakfast table. She put the coffee in the Davis coffee pot though it was too big for two; and Grandma said as she took her place at the table: "Are you expecting company?"

"I merely had a sudden desire for style," answered the girl. "Besides, I was up early and had time to do things properly. That's a good omelet, Grandma, and I'll feel hurt if you don't eat every scrap. It's a gorgeous morning, isn't it? I'm going to run down street and see Miss Garfield about my duties at the library."

This was a good excuse for going out in the forenoon, something she seldom did; and Grandma said: "I shouldn't wonder if Jim dropped in this morning. Did he say when he was going back to California?"

Charmian glanced up, while for some unaccountable reason her heart pounded.

"Why—is he going back? I took it for granted that he was home to stay."

"You said once that if Jim left his mother out in California you'd look for the end of the world," retorted the old lady. "Maybe he is going to stay; but I sort of surmised he was here on a visit. If Lizzie Baker's right and he's got a girl, perhaps he's come back to see about fixing up the house, getting it ready for her, you know. But there, he didn't say a word about it. We were too busy talking of other things."

Charmian didn't suspect that as her grandmother looked down demurely and helped herself to a bit of omelet, she was thinking: "I ought to be ashamed getting her all stirred up this way. Didn't I see his face when John Carter kissed her? But it won't hurt her to be on tenterhooks for a while, and maybe it'll help Jim. Father used to say I was a good matchmaker. . . ."

"You can find out easily by asking him," broke in Charmian. "Do you mind if I start the dishes, Grandma? I haven't much appetite this morning, and there's a lot to do before I go down town."

"You haven't eaten enough for a sparrow," complained the old lady with a glance at Charmian's plate. "What's the matter with you, child? Did Jimmy's coming back take away your appetite? Breakfast is usually your best meal."

Charmian laughed and arose, having a feeling that she wanted to remove herself from the line of her grandmother's discerning eyes. Grandma mustn't guess what her morning errand really was, nor how her innocent remark on the possible reason for Jim's visit had stirred her heart. As she filled the dish pan with scalding water she thought bitterly: "Perhaps she's right. . . . There may be a girl out there. . . . his mother said so. . . . And if he wanted to—to say anything special to me, he had chances enough last evening and didn't take 'em. . . . I guess it would serve me right for not appreciating him when—when . . ."

Charmian caught her breath. Two tears splashed into the dish water, and she winked furiously as Grandma called: "You come help me into the shop, dearie, and if Jimmy comes I'll send him out to wipe your dishes."

"Most likely he's helping Aunt Salina to wipe hers," responded Charmian. "Her Mandy has gone home to help usher another grandchild into the world. I'm going to open a window, Grandma, and let in some of this lovely air. It doesn't feel like the first of September, does it? There goes Gam Garfield reading the paper as usual. Some day he'll run into a lamp post and bump his head. Now I must skip or my dish water'll be ice cold."

It was at half-past nine, and Charmian was about to change her gown for the momentous trip to the Wickfield National, when she heard Jim's voice in the hall below. He whistled, and she came to the stairs, leaning over the banister to smile a greeting.

"Hello, Juliet! Anything I can do to help?"

"You may entertain Grandma till I come down. I'll be there in a jiffy—soon as I change my dress."

"Why waste time changing? You look all right to me."

"I'll look better in ten minutes," she promised, laughing; and replying that such a thing couldn't be possible, the young man went back to the front room.

"I've been opening the windows in my ancestral mansion," he began. "Believe me, Grandma Davis, my mother would take the first train East if she could see the dust. The lawn looks like a hay field; and Towser and Mouser almost wagged their tails off when I approached. Charmian promised to look after 'em, but I don't believe she's done her duty. They acted lonely. I'll have to speak to her about it. Say! George K. tells me that the deacon and Luella have struck a squall. What's up?"

She went on to explain about the "trial marriage," at which Jim exploded. He didn't even hear Charmian's step until she said: "I'm going to steal Jim for a while, Grandma. You've seen more of him than I have, and there are a dozen things I want to talk about. We'll be back in an hour, and perhaps you can persuade him to stay to dinner. Ready, Jim? It's almost ten o'clock."

"Now don't hurry back on my account," said Grandma, as the girl kissed her. "Seems to me you look kind of pale this morning. You'd better lallygag around and have a real good time while you're about it."

"She can't help having a good time if she lallygags with me," Jim boasted, grinning; but his face grew serious as they reached the sidewalk, and he said: "Buck up, Charmian. You look like a ghost. I don't believe you ate your breakfast. I had a bit of trouble getting mine down, too—kept wondering how you were feeling. Don't cry, please, whatever else you do, or I'll be likely to blubber in sympathy and my reputation as a hard-boiled collector of interest will be in ruins."

"I shan't cry," she promised; and then, after a silence, "It's a big comfort having you along, Jim. I wonder if you know—"

"Know what?" he urged after another pause.

She looked up, her eyes meeting his in a glance that caused his heart to thump so loud that he wondered if she could hear it; but all she said was: "Here we are at the bank, I wonder if my purchaser has arrived."

It took five minutes to get through the greetings of Jim's one-time fellow workers; but when at last they entered George K.'s sanctum, he was alone.

"On time," he said approvingly, with a glance at the clock, "and the deed ready for your signature. No need to delay because your man is—er—unavoidably detained. I heard from him this morning. He sent a check, and said he'd call on you when he got here, tomorrow probably. Charmian, my dear, it breaks my heart to see you look so utterly done up. It's a blow, I know; but after all, it's the sense—"

"Hush up!" Jim interrupted, much to the surprise of the kindly banker. "I beg pardon, Uncle George," he added quickly, "but this poor kid is sick of being told that she's doing the right thing. She knows it's the right thing, but that doesn't make it easier. Is that the deed?" He lifted it from the desk, read for some moments, and then said: "By all the rules of good business, Charmian, you ought to peruse this screed before you sign it; but the way you're feeling now I doubt if you'd understand a word, so I've done it for you. It seems to be perfectly o.k., as of course it would be if Uncle George had anything to do with it. Sign here, please."

He was pointing to a dotted line, while the banker watched him from under lids that appeared to be half closed. Charmian drew nearer, grasped the unfamiliar pen, signed her name hurriedly, and then looked up with such a brave attempt to smile that George K. was obliged to clear his throat.

"It doesn't look much like my writing," she commented, glancing down at the unsteady signature. "My fingers seem to be all thumbs this morning. I—I—" Then a bit of her self-control gave way and she added desperately: "Oh, why didn't that man come? I wanted to meet him and get it over with, and—and go home. Why couldn't he have come?"

Despite his weight George K. arose with surprising swiftness. He put a comforting arm across her shoulders and said huskily: "Charmian, dear child, we didn't mean to torture you like this. You see—"

Usually Worthless

Henry Ford is quoted as saying that experience is the only thing we can take away with us when we die. It is a curious notion, especially in view of the fact that it is about the most useless thing we could take. However, it seems equally worthless to others, most people being influenced by no experience but their own, and not always by that.

YOUNG WIFE STRENGTHENED

After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Bancroft, Ontario—"When I first took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I had been married about a year and my strength was leaving me on account of my condition. I was only 19 and it was my first child. My mother told me I needed something to steady my nerves and a girl chum told me to take the Vegetable Compound. I am so thankful I did because it strengthened my whole system and now I feel perfectly well and have a sweet little baby boy."—Mrs. J. B. STALKER, Bancroft, Ontario.

A Peaceful Army Of Invasion

German Tourists Are Now Flocking To French Capital

No sooner had the French evacuated the Rhine land than an army of Germans invaded Paris, with this decided difference—the French were soldiers; the Germans were tourists. Germans were excluded from Paris, first by the war, then by the enmity between the two nations which continued after the war. Withdrawal of the French from the Rhine removed the last trace of war, and a host of Germans went on a peaceful mission to the French capital. They are made welcome and the French government has offices in Berlin and other cities where all needed information is given. Germans travel through France in a very different spirit from those who began the journey 16 years ago and whose war lord made an appointment to eat dinner in Paris on a certain day—an appointment which he did not keep. They come as friends and are received as friends. France is exploiting her reputation as the show country of Europe, and is as ready to show it to Germans who come unarmed as to other people. But what commentary on human folly is the fact that 16 years have been needed to overcome the estrangement of two neighboring nations.—Portland Oregonian.

Worms in children work havoc. These pests attack the tender lining of the intestines and, if left to pursue their ravages undisturbed, will ultimately perforate the wall, because these worms are of the hook variety that cling to and feed upon the interior surfaces. Miller's Worm Powders will not only exterminate these worms, of whatever variety, but will serve to repair the injury they have done.

Chinese Asking For Entry Of Families

Residents Of Canada Will Ask Premier To Grant Request

In an effort to secure modification of Dominion immigration regulations to permit entry of Chinese women and children into this country, 36,000 Chinese residents of Canada will shortly petition Premier R. B. Bennett to consider this request.

Dr. Tehyi Hsieh, managing director of the Chinese Trade Bureau, of Canada and United States, will voice the request, it was learned. He arrived in Ottawa after conferring at Toronto with members of the National League and other Chinese bodies.

Externally or Internally, It Is Good. —When applied externally by brisk rubbing, Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil opens the pores and penetrates the tissue, touching the seat of the trouble and immediately affording relief. Improvements and extensions to the plant amounting to $440,000 will begin in the near future, according to the local manager.

Little Helps For This Week

"For we walk by faith, not by sight."—2 Corinthians v. 7.

Thy God hath said 'tis good for thee To walk by faith, and not by sight; Take it on trust a little while; Soon shalt thou read the mystery right

In the full sunshine of His smile.

—John Keble.

As the arm grows strong only by work, as the memory increases only when made to carry weights, as the eye can see only in light, so faith has a chance to develop only in darkness and trial. There is no room for faith in the daylight; anybody can trust then. Do not even the theists so? But he who on the darkness of the tempest-tossed waters can trust Him who stilleth the storm,—he, and he only, can claim to walk by faith.

—M. J. Savage.

Like a Grip At the Throat. For a disease that is not classed as fatal there is probably none which causes more terrible suffering than asthma. Sleep is impossible, the sufferer becomes exhausted and finally, though the attack passes, is left in unceasing dread of its return. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy is a wonderful remedial agent. It immediately relieves the restricted air passages as thousands can testify. It is sold by dealers everywhere.

Billions In Forests

In the latest official estimate of Canada's national wealth a value of over $1,866,000,000 is placed upon the forests of the Dominion, including the accessible raw materials, pulpwood and capital invested in woods operations. Large as the sum is, it covers only a part—possibly not more than half—of the total economic stake which the Canadian people have tied up in one way or another in forest resources, industry and trade.

CHILDREN CRY FOR IT—

CHILDREN hate to take medicine as a rule, but every child loves the taste of Castoria. And this pure vegetable preparation is just as good as it tastes; just as bland and just as harmless as the recipe reads.

When Baby's cry warns of colic, a few drops of Castoria has him soothed, asleep again in a jiffy. Nothing is more valuable in diarrhea. When coated tongue or bad breath tell of constipation, invoke its gentle aid to cleanse and regulate a child's bowels. In colds or children's diseases, you should use it to keep the system from clogging.

Castoria is sold in every drugstore; the genuine always bears Chas. H. Fletcher's signature.

Burnside Notes

There will be another dance in Lone Pine Hall, on Friday, Oct. 17th.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Eckel, and son Robert, spent Monday and Tuesday in Calgary.

Lone Pine W.I. will hold a Halloween Dance on Halloween Night. Keep the date in mind.

Mr. Leon Doll, of Rolla, B.C., spent a few days last week, with his sister, Mrs. Sam Elliott, and other relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Elliott, and family moved on to the Topley place, last Saturday, and will make their home in our midst, for the next few years.

A delegation of ladies from the Lone Pine W.I., called on Mrs. Clarence Cipperley last Saturday and presented her with a lovely casserole, on the occasion of her silver wedding anniversary. The celebration was very quiet, as Mrs. Cipperley is still confined to her bed, from her recent severe illness.

Melvin Notes.

We are very glad to see Raymond Hughes back in our community again.

Eddie and Ethel Krebs spent Sunday at Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cowitz.

Miss Dorothy Youngs is back teaching again, after two weeks' holiday.

George Bradley returned to Calgary on Sunday, after having spent three months' holiday with Chas. Youngs.

Miss Marion Johnston is spending a few days in town with her grandmother, Mrs. Troyer, who has been ill.

WESTCOTT W. I.

Westcott W.I. met at the home of Mrs. Ira Levagood, on Thursday, September 25th. Roll-call was answered by giving ways of cooking cabbage. The program items for the afternoon, consisted of a paper on "Child Welfare," given by Mrs. Harry Steckley; a reading by Mrs. J. Hughes, and a recitation by Glen Levagood. A Dress Contest was then held, Mrs. J. Hughes receiving first prize, Mrs. A. M. Robertson, second. It was then decided to hold a program and bazaar in the Westcott school, on Friday, Oct. 24th. The meeting then closed with the national anthem, after which luncheon was served by hostess.

Salvation Army Band at Didsbury

The Rally Service held in the Evangelical Church, last Sunday evening, brought the rally activities for the month of September to a very fitting and memorable climax. As was previously announced, the Calgary Salvation Army Band was in attendance, with 24 bandmen, plus their adjutant, bandmaster, and pianist. Interspersed with the musical numbers, they rendered a most excellent male quartette, a solo, and three short, but well-directed and appealing addresses, all based on the same theme, "Christ, the Open Door."

The church was filled to capacity, and a large number of people were left standing in the doorway of the gallery, also in the entrance to the main auditorium.

After the first part of the service of two hours duration had been concluded, the eager audience again settled down in expectation to hear more music and song. By kindness of the band, this was granted, and the service continued for another half-hour or more, before the final adjournment.

The general public will be glad to know that the pastor, Rev. H. E. Roppel has the promise of the Salvation Army Junior Group of "Songsters," thirty in number, to visit here, about the end of next month. This group majors in gospel song, but also constitutes an amateur band. Watch for further announcements.

The Y.W.C.T.U. Reorganize Group

The Y.W.C.T.U. girls met at the home of Mrs. Reiber, for the purpose of reorganizing their group. Ten members and eight visitors were present. Officers were elected and the staff, this year, consists of: President: Margaret Kercher; Vice-president: Helen Brown; Rec. Sec.: Wilma Liesemer; Corr. Sec.: Freda Moon; Treas.: Lucille Madoche.

Freda Moon was elected delegate to the convention at Red Deer on October 1st, 2nd and 3rd. After an enjoyable lunch, the meeting adjourned.

At the next meeting, the new members will be accepted and enrolled.

Hail Losses Heavy In Alberta

Hail losses in the Province of Alberta were heavier during the 1930 season, than in any previous season, with the exception of 1927, according to officials of the Hail Insurance Board of Alberta, which held a special meeting in Calgary, last week, for the settlement of rates of insurance for 1930, under the municipal plan.

There were 1,238,000 acres insured by the board, part at $10 per acre, part at $8, and the balance at $6, making a total risk carried of $11,000,000. This was an increase of 40 per cent over the previous year. The loss, however, was out of all proportion to that of 1929, and it amounted to approximately, $1,800,000, more than 16 per cent of the risk carried. The loss in 1927 was 18 per cent of the risk; in 1928, 12 per cent, and in 1929, a little over 7 per cent.

C. G. I. T.

The "Wanita" and "Heralds" C.G.I.T groups held a very enjoyable meeting in the basement of Knox Church, Monday, September 29th, when several new members were welcomed.

After a bountiful supper, at which twenty-seven sat down, the girls enjoyed a lively sing-song, led by Mrs. Boorman. Then followed a joint business meeting, at which Dorothy Ranton presided in a very efficient manner. It was decided to hold an entertainment on October 17th in Knox Church, the main feature of the evening will be several selections by Kathleen Green, a wonderfully talented girl elocutionist from Calgary. The girls themselves will add musical items, and a play.

Following the joint and group business meeting, Miss Black led the girls in some team games, which brought a very happy, and successful evening to a close.

WE'VE just received from Goodyear a big shipment of tires in Ford, Chevrolet and Whippet sizes. Come in and look them over. Whatever price you want to pay, we offer you a Goodyear-built, Goodyear-quality tire at that price. All-Weather, All-Weather Heavy Duty, Pathfinder and Progress tires to choose from. Canada's biggest tire value in each price class.
